

MITCHEL PLEADS WITH LOEB TO RUN CAMPAIGN

Former Port Collector Finally Promises to Take Time to Consider Proposition.

PLEASED WITH PRIMARIES

Fusion Candidate Satisfied Little Republican Dissatisfaction Now Exists—Independent Democrats Complain.

John Purroy Mitchell, fusion candidate for Mayor, urged William Loeb, Jr., to become manager of the fusion campaign yesterday. Mr. Loeb said he did not see how his business interests would permit him to accept the place. Mr. Mitchell was insistent, however, that he take time to consider the proposition. Mr. Loeb said he would do so and would give his final answer when he returned to-morrow from Washington, where he went on business last night.

Friends of Mr. Loeb say he is so engrossed with the executive management of the large Guggenheim interests, which he assumed when he relinquished the Collectorship of the Port, that it will be impossible for him to devote any time to the campaign this fall.

Mr. Mitchell saw Mr. Loeb by appointment at Mr. Loeb's office, No. 16 Broadway, late yesterday afternoon. The majority candidate was accompanied by Arthur H. Woods, one of his personal advisers. The two talked with Mr. Loeb for an hour in an effort to get him to consent to take up the burden of the fusion campaign.

For many reasons Mr. Mitchell considered Mr. Loeb an ideal man for the campaign management. In the first place the former Port Collector has never been connected in any way with factional differences in the local Republican organization, and would be acceptable to all Republicans. Secondly, having been secretary to Colonel Roosevelt when the collector was President, he enjoys the confidence and respect of all friends of Mr. Roosevelt. For that reason he would be acceptable to the Progressives.

Mr. Loeb also is on friendly terms with the business interests of the city, and it might be presumed he would be able to inspire in them confidence in the stability of Mr. Mitchell. At present some of these business men look upon Mr. Mitchell as rather too much of a radical.

Finally, Mr. Loeb has had long experience in political work, and has a reputation for political sagacity and diplomacy. He also is a great worker and has always been able to get results wherever he has been.

Mr. Loeb pointed out to Mr. Mitchell he was heartily in favor of his candidacy and would be glad to do anything he could to further his election. If he were differently situated he might assume the management of the campaign. However, he had plunged directly into business on retiring from the Collector's office and had not been able to take a vacation as yet. He did not see how it would be possible for him to drop that work and enter actively into the campaign.

Mr. Mitchell then asked Mr. Loeb if he would not be willing to head the campaign committee and give what time he could spare to the direction of the campaign. To this Mr. Loeb replied the campaign should be directed by some one who could devote his entire time to it and who would have full authority.

From Mr. Loeb's office Mr. Mitchell went to fusion headquarters, where he met the members of the executive committee from Kings and Queens. He had met the other members Tuesday. The candidate for Mayor also conferred for some time with Frank L. Polk, Mr. Woods and other personal friends who have undertaken to act as his advisers for the present.

Mr. Mitchell said he did not care to talk politics for publication, as he had decided not to do so until after the funeral of Mayor Gaynor. He asserted, however, he was much pleased with the result of the primary vote, showing as it did there was not the dissatisfaction among the Republicans that some persons had said existed. County Clerk William F. Schneider and a number of other independent Democrats called on Mr. Mitchell at the Custom House in the morning, and complained that nothing had been done toward getting the independent Democrats in line for the fusion ticket.

Mr. Mitchell promised that end of the campaign would be attended to, and assured his visitors every detail of the fight was being carefully worked out. He would not be ready to announce any plans, however, before Tuesday.

Attorney General Carmody in Albany yesterday sustained Mitchell May, Secretary of State, in refusing to accept the filing of the emblem of the fusion party. He said the emblem, which is a bell, would be accepted when the fusionists filed their certificates of nomination. The committee has not decided yet whether they will run a separate column on the ballot or not. It is understood Mr. Mitchell is much in favor of that course, but the leaders of the regular organizations are opposed to it because the vote for their Assembly and aldermanic candidates would be cut down.

PRIMARY GANGSTERS HELD

Disorderly Conduct Charge Follows Election Shooting.

The four gangsters arrested Tuesday afternoon after a revolver duel between two automobiles in Lincoln Square were arraigned yesterday morning before Magistrate Marsh in the West Side Court. John McK. Milton, the Deputy Assistant District Attorney assigned to the court, requested the magistrate to hold them in heavy bail until he could communicate with some of the voters in the 3d Assembly District whose names were being tabulated on 324 slips of paper in the machine in which the men were caught.

The court granted the request, holding each of the four in $500 bail for examination this afternoon on a charge of disorderly conduct. The original charge was violation of the Sullivan law, based on the finding of a revolver under the rug in the tonneau, but this was changed at the request of Mr. Milton, who explained that the four men could not be held collectively responsible for the one gun.

The names given by the gangsters were Isaac Sobel, the chauffeur of the car; Frank Martin, Frank Hart and Vito Macchetto. Their bail was continued by Fort Warden James E. March, Republican leader of the 3d, who said he knew one of the men and thought they were on a joy ride.

Many complaints concerning ballot stuffing and other frauds at the primaries were made yesterday to the Honest Ballot Association at its new offices in the Vanderbilt Avenue Building. It was alleged that in the 26th Assembly District fourteen previously marked ballots were dropped in the box at once by an election official. The association will investigate the fraud charges.

RESIGN ORALLY TO KLINE

Gaynor Appointees Would Quit, but Mayor Bids Them Stay.

It has been rumored at the City Hall for two days that while all the commissioners appointed by Mayor Kline would resign if he wished them to, none but R. A. C. Smith, Dock Commissioner, had sent in a written resignation, which the Mayor refused to accept Tuesday.

The direct question as to whether the commissioners had resigned as yet, Mr. Smith was put to the Mayor yesterday, and he replied:

"I have received no written resignations, but practically all the commissioners have expressed themselves to me to that effect orally. I gave them all the same answer I gave Mr. Smith, that I did not want their resignations."

KOENIG TO BE RE-ELECTED

New Republican County Committee to Organize To-night.

The new Republican County Committee elected at the primaries will meet to-night for organization at the Murray Hill Lyceum. Samuel S. Koenig will be re-elected president. Captain John Boyle, Jr., who has been secretary for several years, will retire, as he has moved to The Bronx, where he is running for surrogate. His successor will not be elected to-night.

The committees of the other political units, which are made up of portions of the county committee, will also meet to-night at the same place for organization purposes. These include the borough, Municipal Court, Congress, Senatorial, aldermanic and Assembly committees. The Judiciary committee of the 1st District, which also includes The Bronx, will also meet at the same time and place.

The new Republican City Committee, which will have nothing to do for another four years, will be reorganized at the Murray Hill Lyceum. John S. McKee, the present chairman, will probably not be re-elected, although the office will be retained by Kings County.

REPUBLICANS STAND LOYALLY BY MITCHEL

Koenig Says 50 Per Cent of Party Enrolment Was Represented.

PROGRESSIVE VOTE SMALL

James A. Allen Nominated by Independence League—Substitution of Tammany Judicial Candidates Fails.

It was not until late last night that all the returns from the primaries were filed with the Board of Elections. The tabulation of the figures will not be completed before to-morrow. From the reports of the leaders in the various organizations it was evident that the Republican vote was greater than anticipated, considering that there was no general fight.

The Progressive party vote was small, but the percentage of the total enrolment cast was good. The Democratic vote was extremely light, but the leaders said no effort was made to get the voters out. The Independence League vote was almost negligible.

Although returns of the Independence League were not compiled, both John J. Hopper and James A. Allen, of that organization, last night said their private reports seemed to show that the ticket as designated was nominated, and that the effort of Mr. Allen and others to obtain the substitution of some of the Tammany candidates failed. It was reported at an early hour yesterday morning that Judge Warren W. Foster and Justice Robert L. Luce probably had been substituted for Charles C. Nott, Jr., and William L. Ransom for the Court of General Sessions and the City Court, respectively.

Samuel S. Koenig, president of the Republican County Committee, was much gratified over the result of the Republican primaries. He sent the following telegram, addressed to the Custom House, to John Purroy Mitchell:

"I want to congratulate you upon the splendid endorsement given you by the enrolled Republicans of New York County. That over 15,000 enrolled voters went to the polls, when there was no opposition to you in the primaries, is the best evidence that the Republican organization will give you its loyal and enthusiastic support."

"I really consider it remarkable," said Mr. Koenig, in discussing the result, "that so many members of our organization came out when there was no fight. Of the 63,000 enrolled Republicans in the county probably not more than 4,000 were able to vote. The others had moved or were out of town. We polled fully one-third of this number. It was nearly 50 per cent of the vote cast in Manhattan and The Bronx when Roosevelt and Taft fought last March."

The Republican vote in The Bronx was about 1,000, while August Schwarzer said the Progressives polled about 1,000. Of that number only about 100 contained the name of Douglas Matthews written in for Borough President. E. J. L. Raldris, the regular designee of the Progressives, got the remaining 900 votes.

It was said yesterday that in the sixth district some of the regular Democratic election district captains had Progressive watchers' certificates Tuesday. Max Stindler, the Progressive leader in that district, formerly was a Tammany man. There was a rumor that the Progressive nominees for the Assembly and Board of Aldermen might refuse to run and that the Democratic candidates would be substituted for them by the Progressives.

James A. Allen, the Independence League candidate for Mayor, was indignant yesterday because, as he said, the election officials outside of one or two districts did not attach the posters with his name to the ballots, as required by law. His name had to go on posters because he was not designated until after the ballots were printed. Mr. Allen was nominated all right, but he was annoyed to think that only a dozen or so members of his organization had a chance to vote for him.

DEMOCRATS GETTING READY

To Open Campaign Headquarters at Martineau Next Week.

Headquarters for the management of the Democratic city campaign will be opened at the Hotel Martineau the latter part of next week. Although the Tammany campaign will be conducted from Tammany Hall, as in the past, the Hotel Martineau headquarters will give some Democrats who do not care to do business in Tammany Hall the chance to have an active part in the campaign. No arrangements have been made for the ratification meeting, but it will be held early in October.

The new organization committees elected Tuesday at the primaries will be organized as follows: County and borough, to-morrow night at Tammany Hall; Judiciary, Saturday at 1 P. M., at Tammany Hall; Congress, Monday; municipal court, Tuesday; Senatorial, Wednesday; Assembly and aldermanic, Thursday. No date has been set for the organization of the new city committee.

When the Congress committee of the 12th District meets at No. 263 Grand street a candidate will be designated to succeed the late T. D. Sullivan. The Congress committee in the 20th District, which will meet at No. 208 East 116th street, will designate a successor to Francis Burton Harrison, who resigned to become Governor General of the Philippines.

Chairman McCull, who has maintained all along he would do nothing to say until he was a full-fledged candidate, was not prepared to talk yesterday. He laughed over the gun fight that occurred in the 15th District primary day, remarking it was a fine way to start the campaign. The 15th is the chairman's home district.

P. O. CLERK IS ARRESTED

Said to Have Stolen Decoy Letter Containing Marked Money.

August H. Bahr, a clerk in the Bayonne, N. J., postoffice, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Charles E. Enterman, a postoffice inspector, shortly after a decoy letter containing marked money, which had passed through his hands was found missing.

Bahr left the postoffice hurriedly yesterday afternoon and was seen to enter a store. He is said to have presented a marked $1 bill in payment of a purchase, and his arrest followed. He was taken to Jersey City and held in $1,000 bail for a hearing to-day.

Bahr is thirty-two years old, and lives at No. 82 West 28th street, Bayonne. He served in the Spanish War. He has been employed in the postoffice for eight years.

CONFEDERATES BARRED FROM G. A. R. PARADE

Order Excluding Women and Civilians Enforced Against Them.

NO ILL FEELING CAUSED

Incident Results from a Misunderstanding—Twelve Thousand Veterans in Line of March.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 17.—Enforcement of an order excluding women and civilians from the forty-seventh annual parade of the Grand Army of the Republic to-day prevented the N. B. Forrest Camp of United Confederate Veterans from participating in the pageant. Clad in their gray uniforms, the Southerners were preparing to form in the line of march with Forsythe Post No. 15, of Toledo, when they were informed of the order.

An invitation to join in the parade had been tendered to Colonel L. T. Dickinson, commander of the Forrest Camp, by Colonel Henry N. Hanson, commander of the Forsythe Post. Just as they were ready to take their places Colonel Hanson informed Colonel Dickinson that the commander of the Department of Ohio, Colonel W. R. Warnock, had been instructed to bar every one from the parade except Union veterans. Colonel Hanson expressed deep regret over the incident. The Confederate veterans also appeared distressed, but as they marched quietly back to their headquarters they were greeted with cheers by the Union veterans.

In a statement to-night Colonel Dickinson said: "We regretted the incident very much, but I believe our comrades, and especially those in the Forsythe Post, were even more distressed. We hold no ill feeling toward the rank and file of the boys in blue. To show that there is no hard feeling against any of them we are tendering an invitation to visit our camp to-morrow night. This invitation is to the rank and file of the boys in blue."

The following statement was made to-night by Commander in Chief Alfred B. Beers of the G. A. R.:

"Yesterday I learned that there was a body of women here from Ohio, planning to take part in the parade. For this reason I called the attention of the commander of the department of Ohio to the extract from General Order No. 10, which reads: 'Women and civilians are prohibited from participating in the parade, and department commanders are directed to enforce this order in their respective departments.'"

"I did not know that an invitation had been extended to Confederate veterans to take part in the parade, and headquarters was not asked regarding any invitation to the N. B. Forrest Camp, U. C. V."

"The Forrest Camp was excluded in accordance with a general order issued on September 2, 1912, barring all persons from the parade except Grand Army of the Republic members. This order was based on a custom which has been observed in the past."

"In addition to this, the Confederate camp was not excluded because its members were former Confederate soldiers, but because it was the policy of the Grand Army of the Republic to have only its members in the parade, with the exception of sons of veterans, who were officially invited to act as escorts."

Fully twelve thousand Union survivors of the Civil War marched through the streets of Chattanooga to-day in the parade. Other events in connection with the parade were a reproduction of the battle of Missionary Ridge this afternoon and a Grand Army campfire at the city auditorium to-night.

Mish Nolen, a Union veteran from Orland, Ind., was found lying dead on the railroad tracks near Clifton shortly after noon to-day. It is thought he fell from a trestle and was killed. His body was terribly bruised. He had been missing since Monday.

PENROSE FACTION LOSES

Magee-Flynn Candidate for Pittsburgh Mayor Wins Primary

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.) Pittsburgh, Sept. 17.—Stephen C. Porter, Representative in Congress and the Magee-Flynn candidate for Mayor in the non-partisan primary election of yesterday, beat his most formidable rival, Joseph G. Armstrong, former Director of Public Works, by 261 votes, according to the latest semi-official returns from all of the districts.

The victory was unexpected, and it is now the prevailing opinion that Armstrong will not be able to overcome the handicap of Porter in the November election, which event would signalize the downfall of the Oliver-Penrose factions politically.

In the fight for judge of the Superior Court returns from the county give Judge John J. Henderson, of Crawford County, a total vote of 11,823, with thirty-seven districts missing, a plurality of 4,519 over his nearest rival, James B. Kelly, of Philadelphia. Judge J. M. Gallese, of the Butler County Common Pleas Court, has 7,133, and James Alcorn, of Philadelphia, 4,921.

THAW TAKEN TO CONCORD

Waiting in Hotel for Extradition Hearing Before Governor.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 17.—Harry C. Thaw reached this city from Littleton this afternoon and was taken direct to the Eagle Hotel to await a hearing before Governor Felt on Tuesday on the question of his extradition to New York and return to the Matteawan asylum, from which he escaped on August 17.

Safe in the knowledge that the United States District Court will review his case on a writ of habeas corpus if he loses, the fugitive smiled and waved at the crowds which greeted him on the way to this city.

Rooms were reserved in the Eagle Hotel to-night for Mrs. Mary C. Thaw, mother of the fugitive, and for Josiah Thaw, his brother. Neither came, but Thaw said he expected them in the morning.

THAW CHAUFFEUR IS FREED.

Sherbrooke, Quebec, Sept. 17.—Roger Thompson, the chauffeur who drove Harry C. Thaw away from the Matteawan asylum in an automobile, was set at liberty to-day. The crown authorities said they had no evidence to offer against him.

"IN FIGHT TO STAY," ROOSEVELT ANNOUNCES

Progressives Lay Plans for 1914 Congressional Campaigns.

AMALGAMATION OPPOSED

"Only Way to Get It Is for Republicans to Adopt the Bull Moose Platform."

(From The Tribune Bureau.)

Washington, Sept. 17.—With the campaign plans of the newly formed Progressive Congressional Campaign Committee stamped "O. K., T. R.," Representative Hinebaugh returned to-day from an unscheduled visit to New York, where he consulted Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and memorized a battle cry for the 1914 campaigns. Immediately upon his return to Washington this afternoon Mr. Hinebaugh sent out a call for a conference of all the Bull Moose members of the House to-morrow.

At this conference, which will be held in the offices of Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, Mr. Hinebaugh, who is chairman of the Progressive Campaign Committee, will tell his colleagues that Colonel Roosevelt heartily approves of the steps the House Bull Moosers have taken, and that he sends to them the following rallying cry:

"We are in the fight to stay; we have just begun to fight for Progressive principles."

Colonel Roosevelt also assured Mr. Hinebaugh, according to the latter, that the Congressional Committee may expect aid and co-operation from the National Progressive Committee. Colonel Roosevelt thinks the House Progressives did the right thing in organizing a committee for the 1914 campaign, and the big Bull Moose is in sympathy with the programme to name a Progressive candidate in every Congress district where the Progressives have a following.

The Bull Moose contingent, however, is not expected to waste effort and time in a number of the Southern districts, where it would be futile.

Mr. Hinebaugh lunched with Colonel Roosevelt in New York yesterday and outlined in detail the tentative scheme of the House Progressives to augment their number and wage a vigorous campaign in 1914, independent of the Republicans. Chairman Hinebaugh says the colonel was enthusiastic.

The assurances of Colonel Roosevelt that the national committee will co-operate with the Congressional committee, is especially gratifying to the little Bull Moose herd in the House, and Mr. Hinebaugh lost no time in calling a confab for to-morrow.

The chairman of the new Progressive committee says there is no probability whatever of amalgamation unless the Republican party sees fit to adopt the Progressive platform. According to the Washington emissary, Colonel Roosevelt is as much opposed to amalgamation to-day as he was in the heat of the Presidential campaign last fall. Mr. Hinebaugh says the "stand-pat" Republicans are seeking to keep alive the amalgamation issue, but their attempts will be futile.

"Colonel Roosevelt approves of the action we have taken in forming a Congressional committee," said Mr. Hinebaugh, "and I will so inform my colleagues to-morrow. I had a delightful conference and Mr. Roosevelt says we have just begun to fight. That's the way we feel about it."

"Where are you going to get the money for the Congressional campaigns next year?" Mr. Hinebaugh was asked.

"We will have funds," said Mr. Hinebaugh, who made no reference to George W. Perkins or "Bill" Flynn, but said that "The Progressives in the districts where we make a fight will give something themselves, you know."

U. S. MAY SEND ROOSEVELT

Proposed for Exposition Envoy to England and Germany.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Colonel Roosevelt may be the special envoy of the United States to England and Germany to obtain the participation of England and Germany in the San Francisco exposition. While no formal tender has been made to him, the administration has been made to identify with the exposition suggested to the administration that he might be persuaded to go to London and Berlin before he sails next month for South America.

It was said on good authority also that both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan approve the idea, but are withholding a formal offer until they know the outcome of the negotiations now being conducted in Europe by J. V. F. Skiff, director general of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, with a view to obtain support there for the exposition.

LIKE REGULAR REPORTERS

New York University to Teach Night Journalism.

New York University will offer a number of new courses in journalism at the opening of the school year, September 25. One of the innovations will be a course in reporting and writing the news, which will start at 5 p. m. and last until 11 p. m. In case of emergency students in this class may be called upon to work until midnight or even later. Ample time will thus be afforded the students to report local news events, just as though they were in the city department of a daily paper.

A seminar course in magazine fiction will be provided this year for the first time. Other new courses are trade journalism, newspaper law, newspaper making, newspaper verse, magazine writing and short stories.

In the advertising division new courses will include advertising campaigns, advertising copy, psychology of advertising and advertising display.

SEEKS INSURED DAUGHTER

Girl Gone Since Wedding Actor, but Company Won't Cash Policy.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Marcella Andrews, of No. 638 Broad street, has asked the police to assist her in locating her daughter, Mary Edith Andrews, once a corset model and later a cloak model in a New York department store.

Miss Andrews married an actor named James Whitley, Jr., who visited Bridgeport with a theatrical company seven years ago. Since then she has never been seen or heard of. Her mother carried an insurance policy on her and attempted to collect it, but the company refused to pay.

OMAR'S DISCIPLE UPHELD

Occasional Sprints No Bar to Business, Says Judge.

"I must say that mere intoxication from time to time does not necessarily incapacitate a man from attending to business properly."

This sentiment was voiced by Justice Guy, of the Supreme Court, and had to do with Jeremiah Kavanagh, manager of the apartment house at No. 125 West 49th street, in which his infant niece, Margaret Mary Kavanagh, is a part owner.

Counsel for the niece asked the court to appoint a receiver for the property, which had been the property of Captain Patrick Shaw, grandfather of Miss Kavanagh. The receivership was asked on the ground that Kavanagh "frequently gets drunk."

Counsel for Kavanagh objected to "any such characterization," even though the manager of the property was of "a convivial nature." The attorney said he would show in an accounting that Kavanagh had been a good landlord and had kept the apartments rented. Counsel for the niece complained that Kavanagh had not turned her share over to the trust company designated for that purpose, and that he had got in arrears in the payment of taxes and water rent. Justice Guy reserved decision.

PROHIBITION SPRING PURE

Stover Finds Water in Westerleigh Park Is Not Contaminated.

To learn if a natural spring in Prohibition or Westerleigh Park, Staten Island, was contaminated, as reported, Park Commissioner Stover has had a chemical analysis made of the water, and said yesterday it had been found to be free from any impurities.

Westerleigh Park was known as Prohibition Park at one time, and the Commissioner said it would have been hard luck if water from a natural spring in Prohibition Park had not been fit to drink.

The Equitable Building begins to take shape

In a figurative sense the Equitable Building has been taking shape for some eighteen months past, but to-day it is taking shape in concrete form.

Behind the slate-colored boardings which mark off the celebrated Equitable site, far below the level of Broadway, the foundations are being laid for the mightiest structure of modern times.

And in scores of great manufacturing and engineering plants, in a dozen cities, materials are being fabricated by the hour, that this greatest of all buildings shall keep its first promise to the American public and open its doors on time.

Beyond this, our corps of efficiency engineers is busy devising the most practical and economical distribution of floor spaces, and investigating, preparatory to adoption, every tried and tested contrivance for the greater convenience of Equitable tenants.

For this is to be not only the greatest office structure in the world in point of size, it is also to be the greatest in point of system—not only the greatest in point of rentable area, but also the greatest in the all around superiority of its conveniences.

Leases now being made from May 1st, 1915. The building, however, is due to be completed two or three months ahead of this date.
